Whose Say-so Is Best?

With nearly all medicines put up for sale through druggists, one has to take the maker's say-so alone as to their curative value. Of course, such testimony is not that of a disinterested party and accordingly is not to be given the same credit as if written from disinterested motives. Dr. Pierce's medicines, however, form a single and therefore striking exception to this rule. Their claims to the confidence of invalids does not rest solely upon their makers' say-so or praise. Their ingredients are matters of public knowledge, being printed on each separate bottle wrapper. Thus invalid sufferers are taken into Dr. Pierce's full confidence. Scores of leading medical men have written enough to fill volumes in praise of the curative value of the several ingredients entering into these well-known medicines.

Amongst these writers we find such medical lights as Prof. Finley Ellingwood, M. D., of Bennet Medical College, Chicago; Prof. Hale, of the same city; Prof. John M. Scudder, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Prof. John King, M. D., late of Cincinnati, Ohio; Dr. Grover Coe, of New York; Dr. Bartholow, of Jefferson Medical College, of Pa., and scores of others equally eminent.

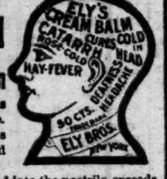

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription cures the worst cases of female weakness, prolapsus, anteversion and retroversion and corrects irregularities, cures painful periods, dries up disagreeable and weakening drains, some times known as pelvic catarrh and a multitude of other diseases peculiar to women. Bear in mind, it is not a patent nor even a secret medicine, but the "Favorite Prescription" of a regularly educated physician, of large experience in the cure of woman's peculiar ailments, who frankly and confidingly takes his patients into his full confidence by telling them just what his "Prescription" is composed of. Of no other medicine put up for woman's special maladies and sold through druggists, can it be said that the maker is not afraid to deal thus frankly, openly and honorably, by letting every patient using the same know exactly what she is taking.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is guarded as sacredly secret and womanly confidences are protected by professional privacy. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

How to preserve health and beauty is told in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser. It is free. For a paper-covered copy send Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only; in cloth binding 31 stamps.

Nasal CATARRH

In all its stages.

Ely's Cream Balm

cleanses, soothes and heals the diseased membrane. It cures catarrh and drives away a cold in the head quickly.

Cream Balm is placed into the nostrils, spreads over the membrane and is absorbed. Relief is immediate and a cure follows. It is not drying—does not produce sneezing. Large Size, 50 cents at Druggists or by mail; Trial Size, 10 cents.

TO KILL THE DANDRUFF GERM.

Is the Only Possible Way of Having An Effective Cure.

If you see a woman or a man with luxuriant glossy hair, you may be sure neither has dandruff to amount to anything. In nearly every case where women and men have thin brittle hair, they owe it to dandruff. There are hundreds of preparations that "claim" to cure dandruff, but not one but Newbro's Herpicide tells you that dandruff is the result of a germ burrowing into the scalp, and that permanent cure of dandruff and its consequent falling and baldness, can only be had by killing the germ; and there is no other preparation that will destroy that germ but Newbro's Herpicide. "Destroy the cause, and you remove the effect." Sold by leading druggists. Send 10c. in stamps for sample to The Herpicide Co., Detroit, Mich.

Two sizes—50 cents and $1.00.

Constipation

Baked sweet apples, with some people, bring prompt relief for Constipation. With others, coarse all-wheat bread will have the same effect. Nature undoubtedly has a vegetable remedy to relieve every ailment known to man, if physicians can but find Nature's way to health. And this is strikingly true with regard to Constipation.

The bark of a certain tree in California—Cascara Sagrada—offers a most excellent aid to this end. But, combined with Egyptian Senna, Slippery Elm Bark, Solid Extract of Prunes, etc., this same Cascara bark is given its greatest possible power to correct constipation. A toothsome Candy Tablet, called Lax-ets, is now made at the Dr. Shoop Laboratories, from this ingenuous and most effective prescription. Its effect on Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath, Sallow Complexion, etc., is indeed prompt and satisfying.

No griping, no unpleasant after effects are experienced, and Lax-ets are put up in beautiful lithographed metal boxes at 5 cents and 25 cents per box.

For something new, nice, economical and effective, try a box of Boy Probably Murdered.

No additional clews have been found to the supposed murderer of Stanford Adams, the four-year-old son of Col. S. L. Adams, whose charred body was discovered Thursday in the ashes of a burned barn at Cluster Springs, Va. The theory of murder is strengthened by the fact that the boy's skull was fractured, and the body was found in a corner of the barn where he could scarcely have gone himself. Rev. W. W. Reynolds, pastor of the Baptist Church, who was passing, and the colored servant girl employed in Mr. Adams' family, heard the child scream once, just before the barn was discovered to be in flames. About this time a strange man was seen fleeing down the railroad tracks. While it is possible that the child was playing with matches and set the barn on fire himself, yet it is the general opinion that the lad was murdered for revenge upon the father. Mr. Adams, who is a lawyer practicing in Virginia and North Carolina recently incurred the ill will of North Carolina distillers opposing the granting of licenses in Virginia for the manufacture of whisky. Following his action he received several threatening letters. He was in Caswell county, N. C., when his son was found dead.

Shot Himself in a Theatre.

Robert M. Crow, twenty-two years old, of 326 Braddock avenue, East End, stood up in a box during the performance at the Grand Opera House in Pittsburg, Pa., yesterday afternoon and fired a bullet into his abdomen. His wound, it is believed, will result fatally.

Crow is known by members of his family to have been mentally unbalanced for several months. The young man was under the delusion that he should be able to accumulate an immense fortune in a very short time.

When Miss Ethel Levy came on the stage for her act all the lights were turned out with the exception of a spot light. Calmly Crow stood up in the box and loaded a 38-caliber revolver, which he took from his pocket. Then as the house was flooded with light at the conclusion of Miss Levy's "Unrequited Love" song, Crow was seen by the entire audience standing with the revolver placed against his body.

Miss Levy put her hands over her face and fled from the stage just as Crow discharged the weapon. The greatest excitement followed. Crow was married only a year ago.

Woman Burned to Death.

Mrs. Virginia Bussier was burned to death about 11 o'clock yesterday morning in the home of her son-in-law, W. C. Moore, on Midlothian turnpike, about seven miles from Manchester. Unnoticed, Mrs. Bussier had re-entered the house, which had caught fire, to get some valuable papers, money, and bonds, which were kept by her in an upper room. The house, the home of Mr. Moore, together with a number of outbuildings, was burned to the ground. The loss will exceed $3,500. After the fire burned out the partially charred remains of Mrs. Bussier were found among the ruins by friends who had been helping to try and save the building. Moore is a farmer and also conducts a small store. The storehouse was not burned. The fire started in some way in the kitchen, but the cause is unknown. No one else was injured. Mrs. Bussier re-entered the house while the men were at work saving furniture, and no one knew she had gone back until too late to rescue her.

Out of Sight.

"Out of sight, out of mind," is an old saying which applies with special force to a sore, burn or wound that's been treated with Bucklin's Arnica Salve. It's out of sight, out of mind and out of existence. Piles too and chilblains disappear under its healing influence. Guaranteed by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, Druggists. 25c.

Rioting in Russia

St. Petersburg, April 11.—Serious rioting has occurred at Ekaterinslov, where labor difficulties have followed the closing of the Bryansk iron and steel works. Five thousand men have been locked out by the shutdown. Troops called out to keep order have had several clashes with the workmen. A captain was killed in one of the skirmishes. Many arrests have been made.

She Gave Notice.

"Did your cook give you any notice that she was going to leave?"

"Oh, yes; she broke two windows, one of my most costly ornaments, three dinner plates, a whole porcelain tea service and the pledge."

Does Coffee disagree with you? Probably it does! Then try Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. "Health Coffee" is a clever combination of parched cereals and nuts. Not a grain of real Coffee, remember, in Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee, yet its flavor and taste matches closely old Java and Mocha Coffee. If your stomach, heart or kidneys can't stand Coffee drinking, try Health Coffee. It is wholesome, nourishing, and satisfying. It's nice even for the youngest child. Sold by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists.

Catholic Bureau of Indian Missions.

With Cardinal Gibbons presiding, the Catholic Bureau of Indian Missions decided last night, at their annual meeting at the Catholic University, in Washington to insist that no sectarian influence, either in prayers or teaching, be allowed in the Indian schools. They passed a resolution to co-operate with the present Indian Commissioner, Francis E. Leupp, in this step, and to renew their efforts to help the government in the education of the Indians. It was further decided that the only sane method of instructing the red men in the way of morality was to allow each denomination to instruct those Indians who wished to embrace its particular faith.

This decision applies even to the "Lord's Prayer," as now recited in many of the Indian schools, since the Catholics and Protestants say it differently. For this reason it was the sense of the meeting that the recital of that prayer be dispensed with in the schools. Likewise hymns and scriptural readings which have a sectarian tendency are thought to have a bad influence on the institutions, and it was recommended that only indubitably nonsectarian exercises be held in any of the schools.

Many sufferers from nasal catarrh say they get splendid results by using an atomizer For their benefit we prepare Ely's Liquid Cream Balm. Except that it is liquid it is in all respects like the healing, helpful, pain-allaying Cream Balm that the public has been familiar with for years. No cocaine nor other dangerous drug in it. The soothing spray relieves at once and cure is certain. All druggists, 75c, including spraying tube, or mailed by Ely Bros., 56 Warren Street, New York.

Alexandria Gazette
SIC SEMPER TYRANNIS
AND VIRGINIA ADVERTISER

THURSDAY EVENING, APRIL 11, 1907.

LATE yesterday afternoon the President announced that William Wallace Brown, auditor for the Navy Department, had resigned to accept an appointment as special attorney in the Department of Justice, and that Ralph W. Tyler, of Columbus, O., had been appointed auditor for the Navy Department in place of Mr. Brown. The announcement was important because Tyler is the colored man, who caused all the trouble when the President, some months ago, threatened to appoint him Surveyor of Customs at Cincinnati. It was during the excitement over the Brownsville affair in the Senate when it was semi-officially announced that the President would appoint Tyler to one of the best federal offices in Cincinnati, the home of Senator Foraker. This announcement brought a storm of protests from Ohio and finally Representative Longworth, the President's son-in-law, who represents the district in Cincinnati in which the office of surveyor is located, was obliged to protest against the appointment as his constituents threatened to retire him to private life if the colored man was appointed. Finally Senators Foraker and Dick, of Ohio, indorsed Tyler for any place at the gift of the President outside of Ohio. They were willing that he should be made a consul, or get a federal job in Washington, so long as he was not placed in Ohio. The President then began to look around for something in Washington and finally settled upon an auditorship. Although the appointment seems to have been settled upon some days ago the President waited for an opportune time to announce it, and in doing so he cut two ways, hitting Senator Penrose, of Pennsylvania, by transferring one of his constituents and workers from an important position to a rather undefined one in the Department of Justice. On the other hand he hit Senator Foraker on the very day the latter opened his campaign in Ohio and made his speech explaining his position on the President's policies, especially in regard to the Brownsville affair and its bad effect on the colored vote in Ohio. At the same time the voters of Ohio read Senator Foraker's speech, they also read that President Roosevelt has provided a fat federal job in Washington for the colored man from Columbus. The appointment will be of interest to the navy, for although Tyler is auditor for the Navy Department, he is really an officer of the Treasury Department and the naval officers will not come in contact with him, although he will have to pass upon all their accounts.

SPEAKING before the Atlanta Evangelists' Association, recently, former Governor Northen, of Georgia, declared that "governmental hell" exists in Georgia so far as the races are concerned. He says there is an antagonism between the blacks and whites, and that where the negro is concerned the white people are ready to cry, with Ben Tilman, "To hell with the law." This spirit, he says, pervades the courts, and cites that to a recent letter addressed to members of the Supreme Court, asking if they did not consider lynching nothing less than murder, he did not get a single answer. He had the same experience with regard to the sheriffs. From a Baptist minister he received an insulting reply. He considers every member of the mob a red-handed murderer who should be punished. He feels that something must be done to prevent society from lapsing into barbarism.

EGYPTOLOGISTS, archæologists in general, and innumerable travellers will greatly deplore the submersion of Philæ and the other ruins and monuments in that region, but, on the other hand, all Egypt will be enormously benefitted by the addition of 1,000,000 acres to the cultivable area of that country. The relics of antiquity must make way for the needs of the present day. Besides, there are yet six years before Philæ will be buried forever beneath the waters of the Nile, in which time sightseers and students may improve their opportunities.

INVENTORS who assert that they can impart to ashes the full heat producing qualities of the original fuel by adding a secret composition are once more claiming public attention. Attempts to utilize imperfectly burned coal are, of course, to be commended, for both in the household and in power plants an appreciable residue of valuable material is often left. Anybody who thinks that he can replace carbon which has already gone up the chimney, however, runs some risk of being classed with the perpetual motion philosophers.

The weather last night was cold and cloudy, and the northwest wind roared and drove most people from the streets. The weather today has been fair and milder. The recent meteorological conditions are phenomenal for the month of April.

Minister van Swinderen, the diplomatic representative of the Netherlands government in this city, has handed to Secretary Root the formal invitation for the participation of the United States in the forthcoming second session of the Peace Conference at The Hague which begins June 15.

Representatives Tawney and Olcott, who have just returned from the isthmus, called at the White House today to give the President their impressions of the canal. "There are no great engineering problems to be surmounted that I could find," said Mr. Tawney, "although the engineers of the country have been trying for some time to make the people believe that the difficulties to be surmounted there are simply appalling."

Arguments in the employers' liability case were continued before the U. S. Supreme Court today. J. M. Dickinson, counsel for the Illinois Central, defended the position taken by two district judges in Tennessee and Kentucky, who held the act unconstitutional. He aggressively assailed the contentions of the government, holding that the legislation is not a regulation of commerce, that it is in no wise similiar to the safety appliance act, and that it proposes to exercise power over commerce within the States and over the police power of the States. Attorney Dickinson's concluding remarks were aimed at the deep interest manifested by the executive branch of the government in having the law upheld.

It is announced at the Department of Agricultural that the decision requiring proper branding of blended, compounded and imitation whiskies takes effect immediately. However, the department is not disposed to be harsh in its enforcement of the law, as interpreted by the Attorney General and the President. A reasonable time will be given distillers and dealers to alter their labels. In a few days a schedule of regulations regarding labels will be published by the department. It is estimated that fully ninety per cent of the whisky now on the market is improperly labeled.

The published statement that Senator Martin on his return from Europe is likely to take part in the Eighth Congressional district fight in behalf of Mr. C. C. Carlin is emphatically denied by those who are advised of the attitude of the Senator who say he will pursue a hands-off policy. It is stated that some of his most intimate personal and political friends are supporting other candidates than Mr. Carlin. It is also said that Senator Martin was cabled to, urging him to take sides in the fight, and that no satisfactory answer has been received by those sending the message.

Whisky Case Decided.

Attorney-General Bonaparte yesterday transmitted to the President his opinion as to the proper construction to be placed upon the pure food law, so far as it affects the labeling of whiskies. He holds that whiskies should, under a proper construction of the law, be labeled according to their character, as "straight," "compound," "blend" or "imitation."

The purport of the opinion is briefly told in the following letter addressed by the President to the Secretary of Agriculture:

"My Dear Secretary:—In accordance with your suggestion I have submitted the matter concerning the proper labeling of whisky under the pure food law to the Department of Justice. I enclose the attorney-general's opinion. I agree with this opinion and direct that action be taken in accordance with it.

"Straight whisky will be labeled as such.

"A mixture of two or more straight whiskies will be labeled blended whisky or whiskies.

"A mixrure of straight whisky and ethyl alcohol, provided that there is a sufficient amount of straight whisky to make it genuinely a 'mixture,' will be labeled as compound of, or compounded with, pure grain distillate.

"Imitation whisky will be labeled as such. Sincerely yours,

"THEODORE ROOSEVELT."

THE THAW CASE.

In the Thaw case yesterday evening in New York, District Attorney Jerome's summing up address to the jury embraced a bitter arraignment of Harry and Evelyn Thaw, plea for justice to Stanford White, talented man of the world, "unchaste, perhaps, but not a brute," and a logical appeal to the jury to weigh the facts calmly, and to give regard to the letter of the written law. His sarcasm was at its best in dealing with Evelyn as the "angel child;" Harry as "Sir Galahad," and in scouting Mr. Delmas's "dementia Americana" plea.

Among other things he said: There is in this case every element of the simply vulgar, every day Tenderloin homicide. There were two ordinary men in the case, and between them there was a tigress urging them on. With Thaw, she was seduced by White; with White, she was a victim of Thaw's perversion. Why, men, there are the same old elements here that have made criminal history ever since the world began.

The real question is whether New York is to become a mining camp. If this sort of thing can go on; if the only thing between a citizen and his enemy is a brain storm, then every man had better pack a gun.

"It has seemed to me I have heard the spirit of Stanford White calling out from the spirit world, asking me if I could not enter one word for him, "Must I be blackened as by the fires of hell, unheard and undefended?"

At the conclusion of Mr. Jerome's speech. Justice Fitzgerald ordered a 25-minute recess before beginning his charge to the jury.

The case was given to the jury at 5:17 p. m. and at 11:30 the jurors not having agreed were locked up for the night. The following are some of the points in the charge of Judge Fitzgerald:

"When it appears that the defendant committed a crime, and there is reasonable doubt of which degree he is guilty, he can be convicted of the lowest only.

"The general character of the victim is not the issue, and, no matter how bad he may have been, he was entitled to the protection of the law.

"The personal avenger of private or public wrongs is not recognized under our law.

"If there existed in the mind of the defendant an insane illusion, it is not an excuse, unless the illusion is of such a character that, if true, it would result in his injury.

"In considering her [Evelyn Thaw's] story, her credibility as a witness is highly material, and everything that she has said or done must be taken into consideration. Her admissions regarding the relations existing between herself and the defendant prior and subsequent to this tragedy, and prior to her marriage, or any other act should be weighed in connection with her story. The legal presumption is that the defendant was sane when he committed the act. * * * The burden of proof is upon the defense.

FORAKER'S SELF DEFENSE.

Senator J. B. Foraker was the great drawing card at the annual banquet of the Canton, Ohio, Board of Trade last night. He consented to come in response to an invitation to speak on "Civic Pride." He did not, however, have much to say on this subject. Instead of talking of "Civic Pride" he devoted his time to a defense of Foraker and his policies as United States Senator, as against President Roosevelt and his policies on railroad legislation, the Brownsville investigation and other questions in which Foraker has been in the public gaze for the last year.

Among other things he said: That the President of the United States should become personally engaged in a political contest to determine his successor is without precedent, unless it be the bad precedent set by Andrew Jackson as to Martin Van Buren.

The time has not come, and nobody knows that better than the President himself, when "dead lines" can be drawn in debate for anybody to observe; nor has the time come when any real man would respect them if they were drawn.

I believe that this (an opportunity to be heard) was their (the colored troopers) right under the Constitution. I did not believe that even the President, as Commander-in-chief of the army, had power to deprive them of this right.

The investigation has been in progress. * * * The evidence already taken warrants the belief that not a man in that battalion fired a gun. I do not believe any testimony can be secured that will refute anything that has been established.

I will not submit to the dictation or threats or menace of any kind, of any boss, big or little, inside the State or out of it. Neither will I acquiesce, without protest, in what I do not approve, no matter by whom it may be proposed.

Alleged Swindler.

Providence, R. I., April 11.—Trial on five indictments charging fraud and obtaining money under false pretenses awaits Melville Goodrich, of Edgewood, holder of the Maine Rights for the "Dynelection," an invention for generating electricity in which many people throughout New England were induced to invest their savings. Goodrich was arrested yesterday by Sheriff Frank Kane, of Androscoggin county, Maine, and admitted to bail pending an investigation by Maine stockholders of the Dynelection Company of Newark, N. J.

LETTER TO PROF BLACKBURN.

Alexandria, Virginia.

Dear Sir: We should like to set your boys and girls at work on this question in arithmetic and casuistry.

A farmer is fatting three hogs in three small pens; they have equal room and straw and care, and are fed in these three ways: first hog, on a certain proportion of milk and cooked cornmeal; second hog, on the same, half water; third hog, on the same, half water and sawdust. How long will it take, how much will they weigh, how much will they cost, and what'll the profit be on the three?

And a similar question in pigmentry. That same farmer is going to paint three barns same size; and he says to three painters: "what'll you take to paint that barn?"

First painter scratches his head a few minutes and says: "I'll do it for $50."

Second painter: "$75."

Third painter: "$37.48."

Will they each get a barn to paint, or one get two, or one all three, or nobody any; and what'll they make on the job?

That's about how painting goes sometimes. But there is a way to reckon: $5 a gallon. The difficulty is in knowing how many gallons to buy. There a way out of that.

Buy the least gallons paint. Devoe. No matter how much one buys; he returns what's left: costs nothing.

Yours truly,

F W DEVOE & Co.

Today's Telegraphic News

WAITING FOR THE VERDICT.

New York, April 11.—Harry K. Thaw will know his fate some time today. In event of the failure of the jury to agree, they will be dismissed. This is the information which came from a high source of the criminal courts building, shortly before noon. The general impression has been that the failure of the jury to agree would result in their being kept together for several days. It is reported today, however, that Justice Fitzgerald has no intention of doing this, and thirty-six hours will be the maximum he will hold the men.

Up to eleven o'clock this morning no word was received from the jury room. The twelve men returned from breakfast shortly after nine o'clock and resumed their balloting.

All sorts of rumors were afloat as to how the jury stood, the most presistent reports being ten for acquittal and two for conviction; eleven for acquittal and one for conviction of manslaughter; and six for acquittal and six for conviction

There was no formal opening of the court this morning, Justice Fitzgerald retiring to his chambers and sending word to the jury that he awaited their pleasure, and was ready to give any additional instructions desired.

Shortly before 11 o'clock the jury sent down a request for certain exhibits in the trial and these were immediately hurried to the jury. They were the plan of Madison Square Garden roof garden, the Longfellow letters, Thaw's will and codicil, Comstock letters, and Jerome's and Delmas's hypothetical questions.

Thaw sent out the following statement to the newspaper men. I am told it is impossible to tell beforehand what a jury will do. So I am attending to my ordinary affairs and preparing for the best, as it is simpler to unpack, if necessary, than it would be to return here for my things if the verdict is favorable. I am packing up my belongings. I had a good cold bath this morning and a good breakfast. The details of this trial have proven of great interest to the public at large, and naturally we are all one in wishing for a speedy verdict."

Shortly after giving out the statement Thaw was joined by Evelyn in the prison pen where a touching little scene was enacted as the prisoner took his wife in his arms and endeavored to cheer her up. They had only been there a few moments when the jury signified its desire for additional information.

Mrs. Wm. Thaw, the Countess of Yarmouth, Mrs George L Carnegie and Edward Thaw arrived at the criminal courts building at 9:20. They were ushered into Justice Fitzgerald's chambers to await the report of the jury.

Judge Fitzgerald arrived at 10:21 a. m.

At 11 o'clock the attorneys for the defense was sent for.

The jury had read to them the testimony of Meyer Cohen, a witness for the State, who testified to seeing the shooting, and as to Thaw's changing his course while leaving the roof garden, so as to walk past Stanfor White.

The testimony of Paul Brody, fireman at the Madison Square roof garden, was also read to the jury. Brody is the man who took the revolver away from Thaw.

While the exhibits were being read Thaw handed this note out to the reporters:

"I wish they had sixty-four other original letters of the deceased."

The jury at 1:30 went back to deliberate.

At 4 o'clock this evening no verdict had been rendered.

Evelyn Thaw was almost mobbed by the hundreds of curious persons outside the court house as she left the building to go to lunch, with Attorney Dan O'Reilly. Evelyn separated from the other members of the family at the door and started to walk to a restaurant in Franklin street. The crowd surged about her by the hundreds growing constantly with every foot traversed. Several policemen rushed to her assistance, but they were unable to keep back the mob which crowded about her close enough to touch her garments. When she had entered the restaurant, hundreds took up the stand outside to await her reappearance.

An even larger mob than that which had pursued Evelyn to the restaurant followed her on her return to the courthouse after a quick lunch. Fully five thousand people gathered in the neighborhood of Franklin and Lafayette streets, when she came out.

[Thaw shot White on the night of June 25 last, and the former was placed on trial January 23.]

Bryan on Roosevelt.

Chattanooga, Tenn., April 11.—William Jennings Bryan was the guest of honor at a dinner here last night by the Bryan Club. A sensation was created when a letter received from John Temple Graves, editor of the Georgian, Atlanta, declining to speak, because the toastmaster had requested him not to talk about his suggestion that Bryan should renominate Roosevelt for re-election. Bryan insisted on hearing Graves' speech, and the editor finally decided to deliver it.

In closing he said: "We should rebuke the spirit of spoils and the hunger of faction. We should affirm our principles, confess our faith, recite the necessity of reform of corporate capitalist, supreme and transcendent issues of the times, pay tribute to the great and typical American who has proved himself the dauntless and conquering captain of the people's cause, and then in that great convention of our own, William J. Bryan, the one unmatched and incomparable evangelist of our faith, speaking for a pure democracy, and speaking for the whole plain people of the republic, should put in nomination Theodore Roosevelt for one more undisputed term of power, to finish the work he has so gloriously begun."

In beginning his address, Bryan complimented Graves in the highest manner for his honesty and boldness. Turning directly to the subject of Graves' recommendation Bryan said: "As at present advised I shall not present the name of Theodore Roosevelt to the national democratic convention. Bear in mind, I say, as at present advised." Bryant contended that if after mature consideration and reflection, and the presentation of the arguments in the case, he should consider that his duty lay in that direction he would present Roosevelt's name if it should prove the last act of his life. He then went on to say that if any republican was to be selected by the democrats to head their national ticket, the man should be Senator La Follette of Wisconsin. Bryan then proceeded with his speech, presenting ressons why, in his opinion, Roosevelt was not the proper man for the Presidency.

Big Feature for Elks.

Philadelphia, April 11.—Among the many features which have been provided for the visitors at the convention and reunion of the B. P. O. Elks, which is to be held during the week of July 15th, is a massed band concert in which all of the musical organizations present in this city during that week are expected to participate.

From present indications it is believed that no less than 3,000 musicians will be employed by the the various lodges taking part in the festivities, and all of these are expected to turn out on the morning of Wednesday, July 18th, and under the guidance of a prominent band leader, parade on Broad street, playing the melodies best known and best likes by the order of Elks. Never before in the history of public processions has there been a parade of the kind which the Elks are preparing for the visitors. There is no doubt but that a new record will be established when all of the 3,000 instrumentalists are formed in line and march along the principal highway of the city rendering "Auld Lang Syne."

Another Terrible Railroad Accident.

Chapleau, Ont., April 11.—Fifteen persons are believed to have been cremated alive and many more injured from information received here today in a wreck of a Canadian Pacific westbound train late last night. The train left Montreal Tuesday morning laden with ourists, emigrants, from England, and travelers from the United States.

It was derailed 22 miles from this place. Five coaches ran down an embankment and over turned. The contents of a stove were emptied into the inflammable sides and roof of the cars. Before men, women and children, could be extricated, from the debris flames drove back the rescuers and the victims were burned to a cinder, screaming for aid.

Dedication of Carnegie Institute.

Pittsburg, April 11. Cloudy skies and weather crisp rather than cold, are the early morning conditions of the eleventh celebration of Founders' Day and the dedication of the new and magnificent Carnegie Institute at the entrance to famous Shenley Park. There is a throng of distinguished men and women in the city to see Mr. Carnegie present the new six-million dollar institute to Pittsburg.

A reception opens the ceremonies after which an elaborate programme of exercises will follow. On Friday, beginning at 10 a. m. and continuing throughout the day, will be held a congress of the orld's most famous scientists, and many subjects of absorbing interest will be discussed by distinguished authorities. On Saturday morning the exercises will consist in conferring the honorary degrees by the University of Pennsylvania on a large number of guests of the occasion.

Arrest of a Suspicious Character.

Pittsburg, Pa., April 11.—Carrying a penknife, which was open and concealed partly in his cuff, Frederick Slagel was arrested in front of the Hotel Shenley today. Slagel was trying to gain access to the main lobby of the hotel when seized by Policeman John P. Kennedy. When held he begged the officers to enter the hotel, saying that he wished to speak with Andrew Carnegie. He said that he wished to sell Carnegie a patent. He was hurried to the police station. He had $261 on him and gave his address as Los Angeles, Cala. When held by the officers at the hotel main entrance he offered Policeman Kennedy $5 to be released, and upon refusal, be increased to the sum to $10 and $15. Whether he intended using his knife is not known.

Steamer Ashore.

London, April 11.—The Great Northern Railway Company's steamer Brussels went ashore in a dense fog off Harwich, at 11 o'clock last night, while outward bound for Antwerp. She remained fast all night, with about sixty passengers on board. It is expected that the vessel will be hauled off at high water this afternoon. This is the third of the company's steamships to be on the rocks, including the Berlin which was wrecked off the Hook of Holland on February 21, with the loss of over a hundred lives.

Labor Riot.

Elizabeth, N J., April 11.—In a labor riot which took place on Erie street, today, one was shot and another badly beaten. The trouble arose over the strike of hod carriers which is now on in this city. The strikers were armed with stones and when W. L. Scott, 26 years of age, of Brooklyn, appeared, he was shot in the back, and John Bennett, 25 years of age, of New York, was severely beaten.

New York Stock Market.

New York, April 11—The generally favorable character of the news caused a strong opening but there were no buying orders from outside, carrying prices down below last night's closing for a time and creating a generally bearish sentiment. The market turned soon and started a moderate upward movement that was in progress at the end of the first hour.

Tucker's Son in Army.

President Roosevelt has said he will appoint to the army as a second lieutenant Albert Sidney Tucker, son of Hon. Harry St. George Tucker. Young Tucker is a great-grandson of General Albert Sidney Johnson and grandson of Colonel William Preston Johnson. President Roosevelt, when he made the appointment, alluded to the fact that the young man had fighting blood in him and expressed his pleasure at being able to make the appointment. Mr. Tucker is at present employed with the Jamestown Exposition Company. He will have to stand an examination before receiving his commission.—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

Baseball.

The formal opening of the National and American leagues baseball season occurs, today:

In the National League the Philadelphia club will play at New York, Pittsburg at Cincinnati, Brooklyn at Boston and St. Louis at Chicago.

In the American League the New Yorks play at Washington, Boston at Philadelphia, Chicago at St. Louis and Cleveland at Detroit.

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty-three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by E. S. Leadbeater & Sons, druggists, 50c.

GRAVES RULED OUT.

John Temple Graves, editor of the Atlanta Georgian, did not speak at Chattanooga, Tenn., last night at a banquet to William J. Bryan, because the toastmaster, John Tomlinson, of Birmingham, requested Editor Graves not to talk about the editor's suggestion that Bryan should nominate Roosevelt for re-election. Tomlinson met Graves on his arrival at noon and requested omission of the reference to Bryan and Roosevelt, arguing its impropriety in view of Bryan's presence at the banquet. Graves declined at alter his views or subject his speech to censorship. He attended the banquet as an invited guest, remaining but a short time. He left the banquet hall for an Atlanta train.

In the afternoon Mr. Graves addressed a letter to President F. A Hood, of the Bryan Anniversary Club.

The letter began with the statement that Mr. Graves had come to Chattanooga "yielding to no one" in his "profound respect for Mr. Bryan and for the democratic party and its principles." He had come with the intention of suggesting at the banquet that Mr. Bryan should at the next democratic convention nominate Mr. Roosevelt for re-election as president of the United States. His speech on this subject, he said, had already been given to the press of the country in anticipation of its deliverance. The following are some of the things Mr. Graves would have said:

"If the conditions then are as they are today—if Roosevelt rides the storm that is brewing in the realms of corporate capital—then our way seems open and our way clear.

"Speaking here deliberately for myself, and in my fair judgment of the great majority of the plain and honest democrats of the Empire Southern State, from which I come, I believe that we should put the party then below the people, the principle then above the man;* * * and then in that great convention of our own, William J. Bryan, the one unmatched and incomparable, the evangel of our faith, speaking for a pure democracy and speaking for the whole plain people of the republic, should put in nomination Theodore Roosevelt for one more undisputed term of power, to finish the work he has so gloriously begun!"

Head-on Collision.

As the result of a head-on collision yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock, between a freight train and a passenger train on the Southern road at Ruggold, about five miles east of Danville, six persons were more or less injured, but none of them, it is thought, fatally. Train No 63, a local freight train, was standing on the siding at Rugg ld and train No. 14, a passenger running from Danville to Richmond, was to meet No. 13, a local passenger, at the station. The switch had been opened for train No. 14 to pull in, and Engineer D. A. Richardson says that his air brakes stopped working and that he did not discover the trouble until too late. A head-on collision resulted and both engines were practically demolished. Train No. 14 consisted of two passenger coaches, a baggage and express car, and a Pullman car. All of the injured were on No. 14.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed Deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give no Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free.

After the Ark Again.

Mayor Paff has received a letter from Oswald Tilghman, Secretary of State of Maryland, in reply to a letter his honor recently sent to Governor Warfield directing attention to the existence of an alleged gambling ark on the Potomac, near this city, but within the jurisdiction of Prince Georges county, Md. The Mayor was informed that the Governor had referred the matter to the sheriff of Prince Georges county, and that proper steps would be taken "to break up the gambling den." The crowds are transported on the tug boat Bartholdi, which lies at a wharf at the foot of King street all day on Sundays. The patrons of the ark are mostly Washingtonians. Commonwealth's Attorney Brent, of this city, has always maintained that the authorities of this city have jurisdiction over the ark, and could raid it at any time, but others hold an opposite opinion saying that the ark is in Maryland waters over which Virginia has no control.

An Octogenarian.

Former Chief of Police James F. Webster is 80 years old today, and he has been receiving the congratulations of his many friends and acquaintances. He was born in the western section of this city, and he has, with one or two slight intermissions since resided in Alexandria. He has been a member of the police force since 1866, and held the position of Chief, which office he faithfully filled for about 35 years. A short time ago the Board of Police Commissioners, after passing a resolution in appreciation of his past services, concluded that a young man was more fitted for the position of chief, but retained him in the service. He now acts as clerk of the Police Court, calling the cases on the docket and performing other office service. The venerable ex-chief, who has passed through many thrilling scenes in the service of the city during past years, is possessed of a retentive memory, and his stock of reminiscences as in eresting to old and young alike.

Fined Five Dollars Each.

Considerable excitement was caused on Fairfax street, between Queen and Princess streets, between 12 and 1 o'clock last night by the frantic screams of a colored woman named Lizzie Davis and the blowing of police whistles. Officers Bell and Henderson hastened to the scene and found that the trouble was caused by a fight between two negroes named Edward and Robert Bryant, who have often been patrons of the Police Court, and that the scrap had alarmed the mother to such an extent that she had strained her lungs to their utmost capacity. During the fight coffee pots were upset, crockery demolished and other damage caused to the contents of the room. The combatants were brought before Justice Caton in the Police Court this morning and fined $5 each. This was the only case before the court this morning.

Long Voyage.

The schooner Merrill C. Hart, from Stockton Springs, Maine, with a cargo of potatoes for Mr. J. H. Crilly, has arrived and is now being unloaded at the wharf of the Mutual Ice Company, foot of Cameron street. The schooner sailed from Stockton Springs February 22 last. A day or two afterwards she was reported at Rockport, and then all trace of her was lost until she was reported as having arrived at and sailed from Vineyard Haven. The average length of a voyage from the Maine coast to Alexandria is ordinarily ten days.

To Break Up Corner Loafing.

In consequence of the chronic complaints from residents of south Fairfax street of the annoyance occasioned by daily and nightly gatherings of young men and boys at certain intersections, notably Fairfax and Wilkes streets. Chief Goods, of the police force, has instructed the officers on duty in the First ward, as well as those living therein, to see that no such gatherings take place in future. Warrants have been issued for the arrest of certain young men said to be "King Bees" in that neighborhood.

Council of Jewish Women.

At the recent monthly social session of the Council of Jewish Women at the synagogue, on north Washington street, Rabbi Stern, of Washington, gave a very appropriate lecture on the Bible, following which a highly enjoyable musical programme was rendered. The annual election of officers for the ensuing year was held on the 2d instant as follows: Mrs. N. Wollberg, president; Mrs. M. Pretzfelder, vice president; Miss J. Bloodheim, secretary; Mrs. R. Blumenfeld, treasurer.

Returned to Reform School.

John Henry Smith, colored, president and ex officio superintendent of the Negro Reformatory Association in Hanover county, eighteen miles west of Richmond, was in the city today, and when he left he took with him a colored boy named George Johnson, who was recently arrested for escaping from the reform school. Smith says that institution is now full. During the late President Hayes's administration Smith was U. S. Minister to Liberia.

Mr. Carlin.

Mr. C. C. Carlin, of Alexandria city, was in Richmond, Tuesday, in attendance upon the United States Court, where he argued a case. Mr. Carlin is one of the candidates for the democratic nomition for Congress in the Eighth district, to succeed the late John F. Rixey, of Culpeper, and when seen last night he spoke in the most encouraging manner concerning his prospects for success. "You may say," he declared, "that I am much gratified at the outlook, and consider my chances very bright. We are conducting a clean fight, and so far there has been no mud-throwing by any of the candidates. I consider that the relative strength of my competitors is about even, and I confidently believe I will win at the primary." "Have you figured out how many counties you will carry?" Mr. Carlin was asked. "I expect to carry five of the counties in the district by a majority vote, and if I do, I will be the nominee. I, of course, expect to have considerable strength in the other counties as well, but in the five I have in mind I expect to get more votes than all my competitors."—[Richmond Times Dispatch.

Cameron Club.

It was announced about a week ago that Miss Richards would give her illustrated lecture at Christ Church Parish Hall, on Friday evening at 8 o'clock, April 12. The subject is Davidspell, the Old Testiment story of King David. It is played only at Oberammergau and given but once in every thirty years and is regarded by all who have seen it as extremely fine. Those who chose can avail themselves of this opportunity of seeing it reproduced in our midst, by aid of the stereopticon and Miss Richards' graphic word painting.

Accidentally Shot.

A youth named William Grainey, living at the corner of Wilkes and Pitt streets, was accidentally shot in the right ankle last night. The boy was taking certain articles from a trunk when the pistol was pulled out and fell upon the floor. The weapon, which was of .38 calibre, was discharged by the concussion, with the result given above. Young Grainey was taken to the Alexandria Hospital and later Dr. Delaney extracted the bullet, after which the youth was taken to his home. His wound is not dangerous.

H. Trimyer; assistants Robt. H. Bartlett and Chas. Kell; treasurer, Miss Mary Goods; secretary, Warner Foltz; assistant secretary, Chas. Change in Business.

As will be seen by a notice elsewhere, Mr. John W. Entwisle, who has conducted a drug store at 1120 King street for some years past, has sold his business to Mr. H. D. Ashton, who has been in charge of the retail department of the drug house of E. S Leadbeater & Sons a number of years and who will continue the business under the name of the Ashton Pharmacy Company. Mr. Entwisle will remain in Alexandria and will engage in the manufacture of several proprietary articles.

Will See Midgets.

As heretofore stated, George Midgets, colored, recently convicted in this city of the murder of C. T. Smith and sentenced to be hanged on May 24th, soon after being removed to Fredericksburg, where he is now confined in jail, wrote to Mayor Paff expressing a desire to see him in order that he might speak concerning a number of things in connection with the case. The Mayor will probably go to Fredericksburg in the next few days on business when he will see Midgets and listen to what he has to say.

The School Exhibit.

As heretofore stated the City School Board recently appointed Mr. C. B. Yates to look after the school exhibit to be sent to the Jamestown Exposition from Alexandria. Young Man Assaulted.

A "hostler" at the Southern Railway depot assaulted a young man, also an employee of the company, on Wednesday, knocking him down and kicking him. The latter's injuries were so serious that a physician was called to his aid. The assailant had become incensed at the young man for the part he had taken while acting as a medium between one of the railway officials and the "hostler."

Ties Fall Upon Colored Men.

A report was circulated in this city today to the effect that an accident had occurred in the Potomac yards north of this city and that several men had been more or less injured. It was later learned that the report originated from railroad ties falling on some colored men who were unloading them from a car. They all escaped serious injury.

Of Old Doctor Dairymple.

A staff writer in the Baltimore Evening News of Monday, speaking of the April issue of "Old Maryland," a publication devoted to the University of Maryland and referring in particular to a reminiscent article by Mr. William Reynolds, of the Baltimore bar, says: A delightful picture is drawn of Rev. Dr. E. A. Dalrymple, president and professor of ancient languages, a clergyman of the Protestant Episcopal Church, who had previously been principal of the Episcopal High School at Alexandria, Va., where so many Baltimore boys of the past and present were sent to be educated. Mr. Reynolds recalls the doctor in his long-tailed, clerically cut black alpaca coat, "with his little skull cap cocked fiercely over his left eyebrow, a Latin reader in one hand and a rattan in the other." And, perhaps he remembers the cut of the rattan. The late Robert Garrett was one of the students who did not always follow Dr. Dairymple's rules, and for a violation of them he learned to commit to memory nearly the whole of "The Lady of the Lake."

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drouth are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold cure and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed at E. S. Leadbeater & Son's drug store. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Tomorrow Friday, Is REMNANT DAY.

The bargains offered at these Friday remnant Sales consist of the short lengths, odd and ends, broken lines, incomplete assortments—the left-overs from the current week's business, together with special lots of underpriced merchandise.

The former are remnant accumulations, and are offered at prices for quick clearance, supporting the policy of the house—not to allow the remnants of one week to be carried into the following week. This keeps stock fresh and complete, and makes the remnants desirable, because they do not have time to become old or shopworn. The latter are lots that have either been purchased under price for the occasion or, because too large or too small, or for some other good reason, have been reduced in price in order to close them out quickly.

Both classes of remnants will be represented tomorrow, and if you are interested you can find many opportunities to save materially on things needed for personal use or the home.

Charged with Fraudulent Use of the Mails.

Alice Reed, colored, who lives near Lynchburg, was held yesterday by Commissioner O'Brien on the charge of using the mails fraudulently. The negress enjoys the reputation among superstitious blacks of being a conjurer, and she has been using the mails to deliver her wares to customers. The consignment that brought her to grief was mailed several days ago at College Park, the post-office for the woman's college. An examination of the package showed three phials, each labeled with minute directions in a scrawling hand. One contained soap suds, the second dust, and the third dust and ground parched corn. The medicine was addressed to a colored woman in Charleston, W. Va., to be used to conjure a negro woman who was about to be married. An investigation by Inspector Mosby developed the fact that the woman has been doing considerable business in the past three months, having received a number of money orders, some coming from as far as Pennsylvania.

James Strother Fights.

French Strother, one of the brothers who shot William F. Bywaters to death, became involved in a difficulty Saturday evening with a real estate man of Culpeper by the name of Treadway, because Treadway was a friend of Bywaters, who was forced to marry Viola Strother, the Strother men's sister. The difficulty, it is said, amounted to little.

Treadway's story, according to the report, is that he and Strother met Saturday evening outside a saloon and Strother said anybody who differed with his opinion on the Bywaters-Strother case was worthy of a vile name. After that Strother struck Treadway, according to the Treadway version. Mr. Treadway afterward admitted Mr. Strother that it was his fault and apologized, Mr. Strother accepting it, which brought the matter to a finish.

Girl Watches Doctor Amputate Her Legs

Cleveland, April 11.—Minnie Gottschalk, 18 years old, yesterday watched Dr. Alex Bunts and another surgeon at the Charity Hospital amputate her legs. She was conscious during the entire operation and conversed with the surgeons and nurses while the glittering knives cut into her flesh. She felt no pain, for cocaine had been injected into her spinal cord, and she lost all feeling in the lower part of her body. She was too weak to take an anaesthetic, and, as gangrene had set in her legs, the surgeon could only save her life by deadening the lower part of the body with cocaine. Minnie is the sole support of a big family. She hopes to be at home by May 1, her birthday.

Mr. Morgan Leases Residence.

While the Episcopal convention is in session in Richmond city in October, the residence of Thomas N. Rutherford, on east Grace street, which is better known to the older generation as the home of the late James Thomas, one of the most palatial residences in the city, will be occupied by J. Pierpont Morgan. It is understood that Mr. Morgan will pay $5,000 for the lease of the property. In addition to this, he will make certain alterations at his own cost. Mr. Morgan will entertain his friends in the leased house during the convention, of which he is a lay member.

Freight Rate Cases Submitted.

After many months of argument and contest, the freight rate cases before the State Corporation Commission were submitted to the commission in Richmond Tuesday without argument. The cases have been before the commission ever since that body made out a schedule of freight rates of the roads doing business in Virginia, and volumes of evidence, both oral and written, have been adduced. The cases were opposed by counsel for every road operating in the State. The opinion of the commission may not be handed down for sometime.

The News—No Pure Drug Cough Cure Laws would be needed, if all Cough Cures were like Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure is—and has been for 20 years. The National Law now requires that if any poison enter into a cough mixture, it must be printed on the label or package.

For this reason mothers, and others, should insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. No poison marks on Dr. Shoop's labels—and none in the medicine, else it must by law be on the label. And it's not only safe, but it is said to be by those that know it best, a truly remarkable cough remedy. Take no chance, particularly with your children. Insist on having Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Compare carefully the Dr. Shoop package with others and see. No poison marks there! You can always be on the safe side by demanding Dr. Shoop's Cough Cure. Simply refuse to accept any other. The Curse of Dishonesty.

"Dishonesty, the Curse of our Country," was the subject of a forceful address by Mrs. Rudolph Blankenburg Tuesday before the members of the Philadelphia Mothers' Club, in the rooms of the New Century Guild.

"We have very false standards in this country upon the subject of honesty," she declared. "How can we expect to hold our heads high and to feel proud of our American citizenship with the frauds of the Capitol at Harrisburg staring us in the face? How can we expect our innocent boys and girls to grow up into honest citizens when they see men at the head of our affairs who are a thousand times more dishonest than the criminals we put into stripes?"

Ex-Governor Pennypacker, against whom Mrs. Blankenburg had nothing to say is as well-meaning, honest scholar, she stigmatized as a victim of "mortal paralysis." "He is densely stupid or is sleeping," she remarked; "or how would it be possible for him to allow the frauds perpetrated by the machine politicians to have such full sway?"

The outward show of religion, used as a cloak in a defense of evil deeds, Mrs. Blankenburg said, was today a little thing for the young people to contemplate. "There are people in Philadelphia who consider themselves good Christians," she continued, "who go to church regularly, who support their churches and perform all the practical duties involved in their church, who look upon their political positions as only a chance for privileges and perquisites.

"There are men in this city who sit at the holy table on Sunday, and on Monday rob the hard-working taxpayers. Can we say that we have no right to be alarmed about the influence of all this upon our growing children?"

One aim of Mrs. Blankenburg's talk was to demonstrate the fact that it is necessary to bring children up in an atmosphere of honesty, if Americans expect to have a government well-founded on unswerving principles. Another was to show that women, as mothers, have a right to a voice in the government of the city and in the disposition of the taxes.

Twenty-five cents a bottle. Its value is incalculable. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup and take no other kind.
